Game Genre Roleplaying Difficulty Hard Dog Bee Cat Snake Bird Fish Rat Bear Horse Muffin Bacon Eggs Pancakes Frog Owls Lizards Dogs Dogs are an important part of many cultures around the world, with dogs serving as loyal companions for humans, and family pets. Dogs were originally bred for hunting and guarding, and were originally only used by a few families and tribes. As cities became larger and more organized, and more people started to farm and harvest the land, so did the need for guards to protect that food. In the 1800s, after the industrial revolution, people started to become richer and they started to turn to more productive use of their time, including the time to take care of their pets. This is when dog-owning became more popular, and their numbers increased. Over the years, dogs have been bred and bred and bred, until they are today's working dogs. Dogs are highly intelligent, sociable, and generally affectionate animals, and love to interact with their humans. They are generally considered to be great companions, and can be used to help a wide variety of people. Dogs tend to be affectionate, loyal, and fun loving animals, and like most animals, have a wide array of traits and temperaments, and will adapt to the circumstances of their home life and the relationships they have with people

"I'm in a hurry... Climb up, Beat Aim" - this is your mission! You are a target shooter and you have 5 days to become the best player. Beat Aim is a speed game. You are given a beat of the song and your task is to aim in time with that beat. Every hit is a point, every missed shot is a point. If you reach the right position at the right time you'll get a score. Aim at score line and watch your score increasing with every hit. Making quick responses is more important than memorizing any song. Think more like a real sniper than a DJ. The more you speed up, the more points you'll be able to get. How many points do you think you are capable of? Beat Aim is a rhythm game designed for FPS players with AI generated maps. FPS trainers like Kovaak and Aim Lab are fine but quickly become boring and repetitive. 2d games like osu! are nice but have limited content. BeatAim has been developed over last 2-3 years in my free time. After testing many solutions I've finally found the perfect one. Not only it is possible to open any music but also to deeply customize map generation and choose between infinite amount of difficulties. Every gameplay new map is randomly created based on the song. This makes reflex more important than memory - opposite to other rhythm games. Features 4 targets types - click, slider (tracking aim), slider with invisible path, WASD arrows (to prevent players from using keyboard to shoot) 3 guns - 2 pistols and 1 LMG Difficulty slider - every map has infinite amount of difficulties, choose one to match your skill Monthly competitions with Patrons and $$$ to win: Esports League - based on leaderboard scores in Ranked maps Mapping League - every 2 weeks most popular maps go to Ranked pool Streamers League - our bot counts your viewer's watch time when streaming Beat Aim Progression system - earn Beat Coins by playing the game to unlock new guns Daily quests - earn special materials to craft new guns Transparent roadmap with your feature requests and bug reports from Discord VIP Features Now free for everyone! map generator - open any song (wav, ogg, mp3), configure 25+ parameters, background and visuals to create something amazing 2000+ Steam Workshop maps - share and download user's made maps powerful custom leaderboards - show off your skill by linking a YouTube video of your run to your leader
