In case this is not the case, let us know and we will remove it.Q: The dimension of a vector space is always a multiple of the dimension of the subspace! If a subspace of a vector space V has dimension n and the dimension of V is $n+m$, then why is it true that the dimension of the subspace is also n ? Clearly, the dimension of the subspace is bigger than the dimension of the subspace... A: If U is a subspace of V and U has a basis B , then V has a basis B' that extends B to a basis for V . Thus, the dimension of V is less than or equal to the dimension of U . Conversely, B' can be extended to a basis for V by adjoining some basis vectors for U to B' to give a basis B'' for V such that $B' \cup B''$ is a basis for V . But by hypothesis, the dimension of U is equal to the dimension of V . Since the dimension of V is less than or equal to the dimension of U , they have the same dimension. Jim Carrey blasted President Trump and his family on Monday night after their personal trainer posted a photo of the workers at Trump's Mar-a-Lago resort claiming they were looking for a "new boss." Ronny Jackson, who previously served as Trump's personal physician, posted the photo on Twitter after the POTUS' 80th birthday celebration on Monday, while mentioning that the workers at the resort looked like they were ready for a "new boss." Before Carrey commented, Jackson wrote, "I'll let the pictures speak for themselves." CARTER: PROBABLY BECAUSE TRUMP IS 'A VERY COMPETENT MAN,' HIS PRESIDENCY WILL LAST LONGER THAN THE TENURE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S Carrey, who was hosting a podcast for Vice Media and was apparently attending the festivities, wrote, "You really can't make this stuff up." He followed up his comment by
